DILLON OUT-FIGHTS MORAN.

Never in Danger After Third Although Greatly Outweighed.

Although outweighed by fully 25 pounds and having a disadvantage of nearly six inches in height, James Dillon, the Indianapolis light-heavyweight, overcame the odds and out-pointed Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, in nine rounds of a 10-round bout at the old Federal league baseball grounds in Brooklyn last night.

Moran's weight was announced as 204 pounds. Dillon was 169. Dillon went on the scales in fighting togs, while Moran was stripped. The Indianapolis man was in fine condition, but Moran looked fat and flabby around the waist line.

Dillon was the aggressor from the start, although Moran landed the first blow to the head, Moran had the best of only the third round.

At no stage from the end of the third round was Dillon in danger, as he evaded Moran's leads cleverly, and Moran never appeared dangerous after Dillon had landed a left to the body and a right swing to the jaw which shook Moran from head to heel. Moran tried desperately to land a punch in the 10th round and swinging lefts and rights to the body, got Dillon on the ropes; but Dillon came back at once range and with a right uppercut cut Moran's left eye. The Pittsburgher left the ring with his nose swollen and his left eye bleeding freely.

HARRIS AND JONES LOSE.

Chance for Doubles Victory Slips Through Jones's Erratic Work.

Unexpected results marked the final rounds of the men's singles and doubles of the Connecticut Valley tournament at Springfield.

After the first set of the final round of the men's doubles, R. C. Seaver and Irving Wright won a very easy victory, principally through the very erratic work of S. B. Jones. Harris and Jones played in form in the first set and won handily, 6-2. In this set Harris again displayed his remarkable ability at outguessing his opponent and it was his work that made him and his partner loom up large in the round. In the second, third and fourth set, however, Jones, who previously had used much speed to good advantage, seemed unable to control the ball at all. Jones repeatedly used too much speed for his own good and lost many points for the pair. Harris, who early in the last set seemed to have lost heart, rallied near the end, but after winning three games in a row lost out, 6-4. Wright played as well in this match as he did Wednesday, these times, turning apparently impossible smashes by a clever backhand stroke. He also employed his chop stroke to cut across the courts, many times scoring placements in this manner. Seaver was in better form in the match than he showed the day before.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

DYNAMITING BIG SMOKESTACK.

Princess Theater Showing Today Thrilling Aeroplane Rescue.

A crowd of hundreds of people flocked from Los Angeles to Ingewood, California, recently to see the Keystone comedians put through a thrilling performance in which the villain blew up a brick smokestack 200 feet high. The brick stack had stood there 25 years and was recently purchased by the Keystone Film Company for use in a big production.

One hundred pounds of dynamite were planted at the base of the stack. The hero stood alone while the villain remained below, gloating over his opportunity for revenge. Suddenly the villain struck a match and lighted the end of the fuse, which set off the charge. Nell, the heroine, realized that her sweetheart was to become the victim of her rejected suit and hovered over the scene in a speedy aeroplane.

An instant before the explosion she headed for the chimney, dropping a rope as she flew. The hero grabbed the rope and with a triumphant cheer the happy pair dashed on to safety while the villain was left to his fate in the debris.

This is a Triangle production and will be shown today at the Princess theatre.—Adv.
